

Top of page, at left: Miss Kate Farrell of Jericho Golf Club, finalist in the B. C. ladies' golf championship. Miss Farrell lost to Mrs. Hutchings but had the distinction on the previous day of defeating Mrs. Sweeny who is formidable in B. C. golf. At right: Mrs. Hutchinson, of Victoria, player in the recent B. C. tournament

Bottom picture: Mrs. Moryson of Point Grey Golf Club (on the left), snapped with Mrs. Vera Hutchings, of Jericho Golf Club. Mrs. Moryson made a strong showing in the recent B. C. tournament from which Mrs. Hutchings emerged as the champion for 1930. Mrs. Hutchings held the 1924, 1925 and 1926 titles

MAYFAIR'S LETTER FROM VANCOUVER

BY D. O. REED-DALMER

VANCOUVER has gone golf conscious with a vengeance! Not only did we have elaborate affairs marking the opening of the season, but there were club matches, and interclub matches, until with a final burst of energy every club and every score battled toward the Huntting cup, the Flumerfelt cup and the British Columbia ladies' golf championship.

Naturally the championship was the peak of the season, and not lightly to be achieved. Six members from Oak Bay and six from Colwood came over from Victoria to wrestle with players from Jericho and Shaughnessy. The Victoria players included Mrs. Charlotte Armstrong, who while here was the guest of Mrs. J. W. Stewart, Mrs. R. G. Philbrick, Mrs. W. Parry, Mrs. Hew Paterson, Miss Elinor Dunsmuir, Mrs. Wilding and Mrs. Hutchison. Shaughnessy was represented by Mrs. Angus McAllister, Mrs. E. R. Golding, Mrs. E. C. Stark, Mrs. Cyril Tweedale, Mrs. N. R. des Brisay and Miss Dorothy Schwengers.

The honors, however, went to Jericho players, including the winner, Mrs. Vera Hutchings, Miss Kathleen Farrell, runner-up, Mrs. S. C. Sweeny who has a habit of winning her matches, and put up a strenuous fight, Miss Robert Galletly, Mrs. T. A. Havemeyer and Miss Janet Drysdale.

The play was over the Point Grey links. Brilliant summer weather marked the earlier days, but the finals were played in intermittent showers and were well and truly won by Mrs. Hutchings. This is, of course, an honor, but not a new one for this golfer, who won the British Columbia classic in 1924-25 and 26. In the finals, Mrs. Hutchings played close to par golf and defeated Miss Farrell.

The previous day Miss Farrell had put up a spirited fight defeating Mrs. Sweeny. This game was not without high lights and was only determined on the nineteenth hole. Mrs. Sweeny sank a forty foot putt from off the green but went down to defeat at the next hole when Miss Farrell cleverly placed a twenty foot putt.

It has been a strenuous time with one thing and another—or more literally with golf and polo, for the polo season opened with every promise of success—the ponies and the players both in the pink!

This year the Polo Club has for its captain one of the original promoters of the game in Vancouver, Colonel Reginald Chaplin, late of the 10th Hussars, who with Mrs. Chaplin recently returned from England. Mr. A. E. Austin is vice-captain, and Brigadier General R. P. Clark is president. The team is made up with Colonel J. P. Fell, Mr. E. W. Hamber, Mr. A. Houston, Major J. G. Fordham, Sir Stephen Lennard, Mr. L. M. Hanbury, Mr. S. C. Sweeny, Mr. Charles Wills and Mr. George Herrmann. A full programme has been arranged for polo, and some exciting games are anticipated in the near future.

By this time probably Mr. and Mrs. P. S. McKergon have taken up their residence in Montreal; their marriage took place here quietly with only a few friends present at St. John's Church, Shaughnessy, on May 1, while visiting in the South.

Such a number of Vancouverites have left for the East recently. Betty Killam left in May for Montreal, and will later go on to Halifax. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Killam, and while in the East will visit relatives, also her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bell in Halifax. In July she will attend the Kappa Kappa Gamma conference at Mackinac Island. Another member of the younger set, Peggy Stearman, left with her mother, Mrs. W. C. Stearman, and her brother Jack to spend some time in Windsor, and then motor through Ontario, later motoring through to Los Angeles, where she will be bridesmaid for her cousin, Teddy, or more formally, Edna Bell, at her marriage, on June 15.

Mrs. George Walkem, wife of one of our M. P. P.'s has left for Montreal with her daughter Mary. It is going to be a wonderful trip for Mary, for with her brother, Gentleman Cadet Richard Walkem, who is at the Royal Military College.

Miss El

A BRILLIANT FA

CLASSIC beauty, reflected in a flawless profile of a face that Phidias might have carved in the Athenian frieze . . . the silk parted in the Grecian manner, skin is fine and lustrous as Al

Yet this classic beauty is modern . . . a brilliant favorite of Miss Elizabeth Altemus, of the distinguished Philadelphia family.

Spirited as the thoroughbred, Miss Altemus is widely known as a dashing horsewoman . . . a dashing girl who rides the colors of her fuchsia, in many a hard-won

To live so actively in the open, skin so radiantly smooth and clear! Like many other lovely women, Miss Altemus has discovered the most satisfactory complexion

"I have found the perfect product," she says. "The Cold Cream never use any other. And th