THE LADDERLESS DOUBLE GARTER PANEL

An exclusive feature of Mercury Hosiery

Mercury Hosiery has woven into both sides of the top a double thickness of lisle thread which prevents the garter from tearing or wearing through.

There is an Oriental legend which says that of all the beauty in the world, the gods bestowed three-fourths on woman.

The slim loveliness of youth is enhanced by wearing Mercury Hosiery, whose silken veil hides but to reveal the charm of the exposed knee, dictated by the fashions of today.

Ask to see Mercury Hosiery, with the ladderless double garter panel and the toe that wont wear through. Not only does it mean true hosiery economy and assured comfort, but it also makes the wearer feel at ease—free from the apprehension that her stocking may develop an embarrassing "run" or "ladder."

Mercury Hosiery is full-fashioned, of full length, comes in all the popular shades, and is moderately priced at $1.50 to $2.50

THE TOE THAT WONT WEAR THROUGH

Another exclusive feature of Mercury

The toe of a Mercury stocking also has a double thickness of lisle which prevents it from wearing through, adding materially to the stocking's life.
