

GLORY MERRITT

A Goupy floral chiffon of exquisite lines with novel demi-bolero and pleated panels. In rose and white. Imported by Kathryn Ince. Jade, rubies and diamonds in earrings, pin and bracelets compose the costume jewellery. From Ellis Bros. The Baku hat with interesting brim-line, appliqued with lace. Imported by Ruby Cook

A gown of distinction is this black silk chiffon ensemble. Worn with the coat, which is embroidered in cuirass effect with scintillating bugles of jet on delicate insertions of net, it is formal afternoon attire. The sleeveless dress, with similar insertions on skirt makes the indispensable black dinner dress. Holt Renfrew

A Paulette model in a white and black evening gown of white silk mesh net assumes afternoon requirements with even greater elegance by the addition of a coat embellished with white quilted taffeta and black fox collar. Necklace of opaque and black beads. Chic felt and hair hat. From Joseph and Milton

Daring but inimitable is this model in white chiffon riotous with red blossoms. In replica they splash the white velvet coat which has bugle bead trimmings and a clever collar. Imported by O'Brien. The flexible diamond choker necklace from Ellis and a Gainsborough hat imported by Ruby Cook
