

GLOBE TROTTING CANADIANS

THE grand hegira to England and to Europe is in full progress. After checking over lists of those who are now abroad or who contemplate flitting across the Atlantic, one begins to wonder if anyone of importance will remain in Canada for the Summer! Europe demands little more forethought than an overnight trip between Montreal and Toronto.

Mrs. J. H. Gundy, of Toronto, with her daughter, Aimee, and Miss Isabel Ross, daughter of Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor, the Hon. W. D. Ross, sailed from New York for England on April 23. They expect to be presented at Their Majesties' Court at Buckingham Palace on May 24. Many other Canadians are to be presented at either the May or June courts; and, too, many Anglo-Canadians and Britishers in whom Canadians have an immediate interest.

The Duchess of Devonshire, mistress of the robes, will present her daughter Lady Anne Cavendish. It is amazing the way little girls grow up. We used to see Lady Anne during her father's regime as Governor-General at Rideau Hall, Ottawa, sometimes at the garden parties leading the toddling daughter of the then Lady Maude Mackintosh, and she was always at the skating parties. Like her older sisters, she was an enthusiastic skier and used the Rockcliffe hills around Rideau Hall to advantage. It is possible that the two lovely daughters of the King and Queen of Spain will be presented in May or they may wait until June. Another debutante known to many of our younger set abroad is Lady Doris Haig a god-daughter of Princess Victoria.

The Murray P. Flemings (nee Mildred Wood Reid, of Glendon Hall, Toronto) are now in England and will be going on to the

At right: Mr. W. J. Southam, of Hamilton, at Palm Beach, from which he has just returned. Below: A group of Winnipeg people who returned at the end of April from a tour aboard the Empress of Scotland: Mrs. Colin Campbell, who will summer near Hamilton before going West again; Mr. Roland Snider, Mrs. Hoyace E. Crawford, Mrs. G. H. West and Mrs. W. G. J. Stephen continent for a three months' honeymoon. Col. and Mrs. John Bayne Maclean, of Toronto, sailed from New York toward the end of April and will spend some time in Rome, Geneva, Paris and London before returning to Canada. Sir Henry Drayton and Lady Drayton, who have been on the continent for some months, arrived back in Toronto just after Easter; the Misses Drayton will return later.

-C.P.R.

Miss Gladys Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Smith, of Toronto, has returned from Rome, where she visited her cousin Madame van Schuylenburch, who was Miss Jean McMartin, of Montreal, the daughter of Mrs. John McMartin. Miss Smith looked very chic at the reception at Chorley Park on April 26 in a black and white ensemble. Le Jonkeer van Schuylenburch, who was formerly attached to the Dutch Legation at Rome, has been transferred to the Netherlands Legation at Washington. His wife will remain in Canada until the autumn and go with her mother to the McMartin camp at Saranac Lake for the warm months.

Hon. Smeaton White and Mr. F. W. Molson, of Montreal, sailed on the Montclair for Southampton and expect to be away about a month. They will investigate the progress on the fine yacht which is being built in Southampton yards for Mr. Molson and his brother, Lieut.-Col. Herbert Molson.

Mrs. Amery's London home is a most beautiful place and everywhere is reflected the artistry of this charming hostess. At her last reception, tea was served in the ground floor dining room which, like the hall and staircase, is hung with rare old Persian prints. Incidentally there were a goodly number of Canadians among the guests, Mrs. Huntly Drummond, Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Lemieux, Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard, Major and Mrs. George Heathers and Madame de Sola. Elizabeth, Baroness Shaughnessy and her daughter, the Hon. Marguerite Shaughnessy, were there, having cancelled their proposed visit to Paris, and instead they are remaining at Claridge's until the beginning of May.

Mrs. Emmanuel B. Devlin, of Ottawa, has been enjoying Cannes this season. She had a smart tea party recently in the Ambassador's Casino and many of her guests were Canadians. These included Lady Price, and Mrs. Frances McKenna, of Quebec, Mrs. Globensky, of Terrebonne, Mrs. George Patterson

See also page 86

excellent after-dinner
just returned from an complete list of Anglo-very long one. Lady
town house in Carlton Laren Brown whose
of oratory, Mrs. Ernest the wide hospitality he
to Canadian visitors Canadian wife of the
son's Bay Company,
and Mrs. C. R. Hegan,
many Canadians who
don a very pleasant
atriots.

M'Nabb married the
marrie, the number of married Englishmen
is very great. Among Adams and her sisters Mrs. Pemberton, the
Mrs. Riordan, of St.
chioness of Donegal, Alifax; Mrs. Dudley
oiniere; The Countess
ster the Countess of
ok; Mrs. Arthur B. e, of Quebec; Mrs.
Parkin; Mrs. Dom
sister Lady Hull, nee ood, nee Eaton and

eat many Canadians
another have decided England. It would, of
to give a complete
undoubtedly adds to better understanding n countries. Some of over here, some are like Gen. Sir Dudley
Sir Henry Burstall,
on, Maj.-Gen. Sir
l. Hamilton Gault,
nglish political life.
names are not men-
ford, Mr. and Mrs.
ning, Mrs. Vernon
Col. and Mrs. Reid
nson, Mrs. Grasset
land and her three
and Mrs. Easton,

she would like to,
Canadian, but as
likes to call herself
associations with our
nal and able book,
l gives a charming
she says, "We had
g, baking, washing
it!"

concert-parties for
eatrical companies,
he London suburbs
ot as widely known
on would do well to

-Keystone

Above: Mrs. J. H. Gundy, her daughter, and Miss Isabel Ross, of Toronto, sailing on the S. S. France, April 23, for Paris and London. At left: Miss Eileen Bennett, during an interval in the Cannes international tennis tournament, with Master Alfred Rogers of Toronto

-Topical