

y at the Yeoman of the staff of Their Excellency of Commander and officers of the Royal t on a gay little dance out en masse to greet r three weeks' offering pre-war days to see the h men and women in a chatter and laughter e enthusiasm over the ly more than half the born; nowhere outside n gatherings.

Metzenauer, coming the racted no such audi- was sponsored by the b and one would think iste—. But that is er was delightful too, rring a wealth of charm- usical Club is bringing anadian contralto and . That will be in con- Diamond Jubilee cele-

There were several me. Metzenauer while the chief of which was at the lovely home of ertson on Clive Drive. obertson is herself a te.

formed Commodore of the Daughters of Douglas McConnan, athered together as of Victoria as possible.

a singer and bright lite a measure of fame e initial event of the tending fashion and aged in the Empress sts taking part were er McQuade and the r are daughters of the e, and are exception- ing the 'cello, another e to find a family like She has six children, ently carefree sort of known baritone, Mr. one of our best-loved world, in the next esses a soprano voice stage presence. The looking forward to ctoria about the end mer, but will devote imes for her 1927-28 the success she has nts have come to us, tters. We who have watched her patient last the recognition

At right: Donald Hunter on Pandora, winner of the Mississauga Horse Cadets Jumping Event at the Toronto Hunt Carnival, in which he carried off the T. A. MacAuley cup. The Cadet Jumping was a keen test of sportsmanship, being ridden over a stiff 4'6" course, and the first event of the evening

Below, at left: Miss Isabel Ross, daughter of Hon. W. D. Ross, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario, and Mrs. Ross, just prior to the carnival. At centre: Miss Enid Hunt and Dusky Girl, third in the junior pair jumping competition. At right: Miss Peggy O'Gorman, winner of the bare-back jumping contest

THE HUNT CLUB CARNIVAL AT TORONTO

Below: Masters Jack and Erskine Eaton, sons of R. Y. Eaton, Esq., Toronto, winners of all three junior pair jumping events on Starlight and Sunlight. The Eaton brothers were also winners on the same horses with Donald Hunter on Pandora in the class for junior hunt teams

Below: A Little Bit of Ireland, the jaunting car, driven by Major Timmis, D.S.O. The occupants are Miss Norah Gordon, Miss Helen McGregor, Miss Winnifred McGill, Miss Freda Cross, Miss Margaret McGill and Miss Eleanor Nevett

The Wentworth Hunt Club team from Hamilton, which won against the Beardmore, Sifton, Northgrave and other stables at the Toronto Show. From left to right: Miss Jane Wilcox, on Brian Boru, Mrs. H. J. Waddie on White Wings, and Miss Bebe Southam on The Babe

—Alexandra Studios, Toronto

—James, Toronto

—Wilfred Johnson, Hamilton