

Left: A diminutive cap of seed pearls is rimmed with faintly tinted orange blossoms and buds, a headdress for height and dignity. Below: The tall slim bride will find this wreath and the buds that curve low over the ears, most flattering in effect

France Favors Bridal Simplicity

Glorious white satin relies solely on gracious, subtle lines. Long slim sleeves cover the hands. Tulle in an endless mist, and a sheaf of Madonna Lilies complete the bridal gown preferred by the dignified daughters of France. From the T. Eaton Co., Ensemble Shop. Photograph by Mr. Pidduck, of the Eaton Studio. Bouquet by Simmons and Son, Limited, Toronto

ite Roles

e is par-
e veil is sters of well bede only

luck of the Eaton Studio.

ple
l a
are ge-
the
nto
Co.
lls,