What is Your Problem?

What is your problem? One of beauty?—of fashion?—entertainment? It really matters not a whit. Just see the bevy of smart shops, Mayfair's shops, each specializing in one particular thing. If it is beauty (and is there one among us who with a toss of the head may declare that she has no personal interest?) Experts will give professional advice and soothing treatments fraught with good results. There are fashion salons that will offer only what is correct and lovely. Others have suggestions innumerable for the original bridge party, the shower and summer dance.
