

Senioni, Paris

THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING IN WOOLLENS

Pour le sport the Parisienne favors this Lucien Lelong suit (above), a woollen fantasy in beige and red, with gilet of red wool velours. The chic tuck-in with the tailored cravat is of eggshell satin. The wide black patent belt matches the under-arm bag. The simple felt hat is a Maria Guy model.

At right: A stiff sea breeze aboard a majestic ocean liner is the background of Aquitania, Heim's travel tweed in black and white weave. The black astrakhan collar withstands the fiercest hurricane, while the black kid gloves with white baguettes and the black off-the-face turban are distinctive accessories.

