

the sort of an individual. In business, McConnell finds him a man thorowed by success and ingiving, whether it be iversity, to hospitals organizations, he is of the most open in Montreal, but has endous worker for one of the most persu the city has ever spital Drive has but hasize this trait. It be an exaggeration Mr. McConnell can y drive and extract stone wall, but he me notable successes and is one of those an get a man to sign wo hundred dollars led victim's previous fifty dollars. As to g: when the final ven in the ball room Royal Hotel, the mark the closing of paign Mr. McCon an announced that 0,000, as a personal . W. Beatty, presi hat Mr. McConnell e present knew that l's way of announce e audience cheered s have become a s of thirty winters e E. J. Flynn rose o be Conservative d now, after three Alexandre Tascher o his throne, more than before. Party t in the nature of aschereau's origin, tions should be in birth, training, man personifies chest and its best. eau's ascendancy ecessary to know that one glimpses Montreal, but the —capital of the reat in wealth, in eat hostleries, fine . It is a metro- , Quebec with its lievalism and its f French Canada. railway goes to me to its docks. City. Modernity nd, at its ancient enclose its inner t car seems like a old World repose. that Louis Alex- uebec's past, her ancient customs it is such things in a word, the His relations to politician to his e, his people. He

—Hugh Cecil, London

The Countess of Haddington

Lady Haddington, formerly Miss Sarah Cook, of Montreal, married the Earl of Haddington in 1923. She and her husband are arriving in Canada on June 18, by the Empress of France, and intend travelling through Western Canada to the Pacific Coast, accompanied by the Countess' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Cook, and her sister, Miss Dorothy Cook, of Montreal