MANOIR RICHELIEU

at Murray Bay, Province of Quebec, Canada

Pine Forests - Sunlight and the Tang of the Sea

THE scent of balsam and pine mingles strangely well with ocean blown air, and sunlight washes the great white terrace of the MANOIR RICHELIEU with a Mediterranean brilliance. Salt water from the St. Lawrence river is warmed as it flows through the big outdoor swimming pool.

Centre of a fashionable summer colony, the MANOIR RICHELIEU sets the pace for gay summer pleasures. In its luxury of appointment, its cuisine and service it is a metropolitan hotel. In its surroundings, the quaint and beautiful country of lower Quebec—which merges into a wilderness of purple mountains to the north—it becomes a Seigneural chateau.

Here is found weather for the enjoyment of all outdoor sports at their best, from golf to galloping. Or you may simply bask in the sun, and your appetite becomes ravenous and the chef is happy.

Had we your name and address we would mail you an attractive booklet telling you all about this charming foreign but near-at-hand place, and this interesting hotel.
