Questions

"Is there heaven?" we cry, "is only hell,
Is there happiness, sublimity, only pain?"
We moan, we sigh, we buy & we sell

And start all over & try again.

"Are there real ghosts & what is the sun?
Why is life cruel & what are our goals?
Purity, endurance, passion — or none —
Are we alive or only our souls?"

Why do we eat? To keep us alive?

Do we want to live or want to die?

Life is uncertain; where lies in a hour —

Why think & be known? Just suffer — but why?

Self.

Oh to get away from myself,

To forget that self even exists,

To live in the realm of others

On spiritual eagles & Titans.

To forget that we're heads in a - throbbing

And to think all realities, exists.
